

Affection

BREAK YOUR STRESS CYCLE

Research suggests a 20-second hug can change your hormones, lower your blood pressure and heart rate, and improve mood, all of which increase your oxytocin level (the social bonding hormone).

Petting an animal companion or hugging a member of your household can do you both good!

Visit swbhp.org for more information about Breaking Your Stress Cycle.